

The Social Season

BAND STORY

"The Social Season and TheSocialSeasonMusic.com are the work of multi-instrumentalist and vocalist, Cory Cline. From October 2006 to November 2008, Cory Cline wrote and recorded The Social Season's first album, "Rebuilding Year". At first in the bonus room of his parents' house, and later on in the spare bedroom of the house he bought with wife Jaime, Cory sang all the lead and harmony vocals, played all the guitars, keys, and bass parts, and played or programmed all of the drum parts. The album is now available for purchase as a digital download at www.TheSocialSeasonMusic.com and on iTunes, and Cory is in the process of assembling musicians and gear to take The Social Season and "Rebuilding Year" to the stage."
