

Bobby Short

BAND STORY

"Bobby Short came up in a time when artists performed all types of music. He's played it all from R&B to Country, he's a lover of all music as he was exposed to it all. In the late 1970's and 80's Short and his band opened for Bobby Womack, James Brown, Earth Wind and Fire, and other national recording artists. Throughout the 90's he continued to perform fronting bands of different sizes and configurations. " Sometimes its a quartet or a trio" Says Short "It just depends on what I need." On It's a Wonderful World Short is very imaginative and varied, the recording explores 15 songs which Short delivers in an elegant easy going style, of past hits such as: Nat King Coles Route 66, Lou Rawls You'll Never Find, and a wonderful re-examination of George Benson's This Masquerade. Bobby is from New Brighton Pa. which is in Beaver County located approximately 30 miles south of Pittsburgh. "
